APO CONNECTING
2022

NAU MAI, HAERE MAI

Welcome to our Connecting programme for 2022. Whoever you are and wherever you live in this wonderful city of ours, Tāmaki Makau Rau, we are committed to bringing you inspiring, engaging and entertaining musical activities and opportunities, if not right now, then as soon as we're able to do so!

APO Connecting's philosophy is that 'Music opens Minds'. Music can improve your wellbeing and help promote a sense of community, belonging and cultural fulfilment. And, as we come to terms with another year living through the pandemic, the importance of having music in our lives is immeasurable.

A big thank you to our sponsors, funders and donors who champion and generously contribute to the APO Connecting programme each year. This support enables us to deliver a diverse range of activities that benefit everyone across the Auckland region.

Take the time to browse this guide and see the exciting concerts and events on offer. We look forward to connecting with you through music in 2022.

BARBARA GLASER
APO CHIEF EXECUTIVE

KIA ORA KOUTOU KATOA,

It is with great pleasure that we welcome you to an exciting year of APO Connecting activity in 2022. This year is jam-packed as ever with something for everyone – from the smallest pēpē to our beloved tupuna.

Our popular concert for pre-schoolers, APO 4 Kids, will be 'outta this world' as we explore the theme of space, with sing and play along activities in a fun-filled interactive concert for your tamariki. And we're cooling things down with our free full orchestral concert series Community Classics, featuring music from or about the frozen tundra.

For schools we are exploring the theme of journeys in our annual Discovery concert for akonga in secondary school. Our Kiwi Kapers concert for primary and intermediate schools takes on a Pacific twist with a new commission written to tell a special Cook Island story.

I can't wait to see you all at one of our concerts or events this year. We are looking forward to bringing live music back to Tāmaki Makau Rau – there is nothing like the real thing!

HAYDN STAPLES APO PIANO SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAMME

Today's talent, tomorrow's stars.

The Haydn Staples APO Piano Scholarship Programme is the most comprehensive training programme for emerging pianists in New Zealand. The Scholarship Programme is chaired and funded by Haydn Staples and administered by the APO.

This innovative programme, run in partnership with the University of Auckland School of Music, assists talented young pianists to develop a diverse portfolio of skills to complement their advanced solo studies. It equips them with invaluable experiences and training opportunities to improve their musicianship and employability.

At the end of their first year of study, up to three piano students are selected to enter the programme, which runs in conjunction with the remainder of their undergraduate studies (and with an opportunity to be selected for a further Honours year).

These selected scholars are able to explore every aspect of piano performance, including an opportunity for the top Honours student to perform as a soloist with the APO.

A key component of the programme is 'giving back'. Along with pro bono public performances throughout the tenure of the Scholarship, the scholars are expected to continue mentoring and supporting junior piano students, once their scholarship has finished.

As part of the programme, the chosen scholars will have the benefit of the following:

- Additional piano lessons with highly respected piano teacher Bryan Sayer
- Masterclasses and private lessons with APO's visiting artists
- Tickets to APO performances
- Chamber music tuition with APO musicians
- Collaborative piano mentoring
- Seminars on public speaking and employability
- Extensive performance opportunities at APO events, with the top scholar of the honours cohort
- Performing as a soloist with the orchestra.
- A scholarship of $2,000 per year towards the cost of their music studies

ZOSIA'S STORY

Zosia Herlihy-O'Brien has been playing the violin since she was four years old. Her love of music developed as she grew older. From summer camps to the Chamber Music New Zealand Contest final, her desire to share her passion took her around the country. But it was her experience in APO's Aspiring Musicians programme that gave her something unique.

"Being an APO Aspiring Musician is different to anything I have been involved with before. I learnt so much – not just about performing. It all fuelled my desire to continue to share my love for classical music, both on the main stage and in the community as well. I will always be grateful to the APO for the experience."

The APO Aspiring Musicians, an APO Connecting initiative, are a group of talented young musicians selected to participate in APO events throughout the year. The programme gives emerging talent the chance to gain real-life experience as working musicians.

The Future Fund supports APO Connecting activities from APOs to our youth justice and dementia programmes. These generous donors recognise the ability that music holds to heal and inspire our Auckland communities.

If you are interested donating to the Future Fund and supporting the work of APO Connecting, please contact our Director of Development, Natalie Macaulay.
